Building A Great Organization

FLYONIT's mission is to be the trusted leader in IT services, exceeding customer expectations with cost-effective and customized technology solutions. The company achieves this by prioritizing customer needs, staying at the forefront of industry trends, and ensuring operational excellence through rigorous quality control measures. FLYONIT is committed to taking the company to great heights by consistently surpassing customer expectations and delivering exceptional IT services.

For instance, Riverdale Healthplus, a BULK BILLING General Medical Practice situated in the heart of Western suburbs of Melbourne offering traditional-style medical care in a modern & purpose-built establishment, reached out to FLYONIT to enhance themselves.

Riverdale Healthplus did not have an online presence, so they could not reach out to patients efficiently. Also, they could not focus on their core business due to increasing network issues. Increasing downtime and failures were hampering their productivity. FLYONIT offers them fully secured, end-to-end network services so that they can improve their business productivity as well as cost efficiencies. FLYONIT helped them lower their operational costs by maintaining the highest level of network performance; their network solution enabled the client to focus on their core business rather than on unnecessary network issues.

FLYONIT also built a custom website for them and helped them increase their reach, productivity, and profitability. Apart from these, the company offered them a cloud PBX system setup, enabling them to develop meaningful patient relationships. The phone system provides communication that can centralize patient appointment management, billing support, and test result delivery. By outsourcing network services to FLYONIT, Riverdale Healthplus can now focus more on its core business. Mahesh and his team's network services also helped them lower operational costs and increase business productivity.
